About the NIRI D★FW Chapter:

The D★FW chapter is one of the largest and most senior chapters of the National Investor Relations Institute and includes members from the D★FW metroplex as well as from states adjacent to Texas.

Our goal is to reach the investor relations professionals in our community and set the highest educational standards to help meet their developmental needs. We set standards of excellence for the IR profession and establish best practices for public companies.

The chapter's role in raising the bar is vitally important in today's business environment when companies' communications to investors and other key audiences must be completely transparent.

The chapter, founded in 1976 with just a few charter members, holds regular monthly meetings and educational seminars that feature experts who discuss leading issues that affect publicly traded companies and the investor relations profession.

Established in 1969, the National Investor Relations Institute is a professional association that primarily comprises corporate officers and investor relations consultants who are responsible for communications to and among corporate managements, shareholders, securities analysts and other financial publics. With more than 4,300 members, the national organization represents more than 2,100 publicly held U.S. companies.
